

2002 HSC Community and Family Studies

10 Current research shows a link between the prenatal care taken by mothers and the health of their babies.

Which of the following statements is most correct for the general population?

- (A) The consumption of alcohol during the first trimester of pregnancy will result in Foetal Alcohol Syndrome.
- (B) Medical supervision during pregnancy will ensure that babies are born without genetic abnormalities.
- (C) Optimal nutrition during pregnancy will ensure that babies are born within the average weight range.
- ✓ (D) Children born to mothers who smoked during their pregnancies will show growth retardation.

Question 10 : % answers correct by band range

