

Q 17

A) She can't go out any more, take care of herself more she'll tire easily might stop work until baby is old enough for other care

B) Religion and culture doesn't change the caring aspect of the relationship but the parenting is some thing major because parents choose to expose their children to different parts of their culture and religion or social aspects of life also mostly it comes from what they're parents did or did not do!

C) I agree with the statement in relation to parenting responsibilities they're goal is to bring up bright and socially adjusted children