of emotional voices. e.g sad, happy, surprised, hangs around his best friend when he has nothing to do, the girl that really does like him trys to tell him that his living a lie but security come and take her away then one day he finds out that he really is living a lie that his best friend was fake, that his job was fake, that everything around him was fake, he tryed to sail away but he was trapped in a big world then the girl that's in love with him comes to his rescue and opens a door for him his whole life from that day has changed he was no longer a show he was for real and
