

Speeches are indeed very much, extremely valuable to us as they continue to speak to us. However they will only continue to speak to us if they of importance and about an ongoing issue or perhaps inspirational.

One such speech which is all three of these is the ~~spee~~ famous speech by Martin Luther King made in 1963. This speech confronts the issue of Racism and was ~~an~~ an extremely important speech as it emphasised the beliefs of the African American people and had an impact on many people. This speech was also extremely inspirational as it inspired people to help the cause and provoked reactions.
