

Section II

Question 3

I studied about different perspectives are influenced by individuality, personal history and culture. In a prescribed stimulus booklet Changing, There are 2 pictorial text which are "The conciliation" and "The national picture".

Then I found those 2 text are comparable but on different perspective.

"The conciliation" is Aborigine's perspective because on that picture everyone is Aborigines except 1 western person. on the other one "The national picture" is western's perspective same reason as "The conciliation" but there is photo of last Tasmanian aboriginal prince Trucacini.

This is the evidence of perspectives are influenced by individuality, personal history.

Question 3

Also I studied "Through Australian Eyes" this is a documentary of people who born in Australia goes back to their home country.
There is Australian born Indian his name is Josse. He went to India but he saw there
~~was~~ is slavery so he couldn't feel belonging.
This is evidence for different perspective influenced by culture.
