Compare Christchurch and Mexico city in a large city in the developed world

Mexico is a very big city but from studying it in a wider perspective i now understand the whole concept of it all and its not all that cut ~~off~~ out to be it lack's alot of Money , economic importance.

i was very shocked by the way they live in the countries one ~~pic~~ picture from the Geography text book shows us in full colour detail a man eat banana peels from the rubbish bins around mexico city in the poorer regions then you turn the page and you see Mexico panitting in a differet perspective this picture was of the upper class of Mexico.

I Think this is like christchurch it is like Mexico city. Urban dynamics play a big part in both Mexico city and also in christchurch.
