5 Which of the following best describes a network operating system?

   (A)   Hardware needed for the operation of a network

   (B)   A configuration of devices to support network operation

   (C)   Software used to protect microcomputers on a network from virus infection

✓ (D)   Software that controls network communications and the sharing of resources

Question 5 : % answers correct by band range