

Albert Speer

(i) The significant events in the career of Albert Speer up to 1945 were his involvement with the Nazi party. This enabled him to blossom his career by the designing of the 'Cathedral of Lights' and designing 'Goebbels office'. Projects like these gave Albert Speer a chance to prove himself worthy of Hitler. It also gave him a chance to show off his architectural talent, providing him to obtain a name for himself. Albert Speer was a career driven man who was very good at organising and production efforts as proven when Hitler promoted him to Ammunitions minister. Production had increase by 60% by within 6 months. Hitler and Speer became very close and soon Speer was involve in the exclusive inner circle.
