

Question 21 (continued)

- (c) Assess the impact that the health status of Australians has on the provision of health care facilities and services.

10

The impact that the health status of Australians has on the provision of health care facilities and services is one of great depth. Australia's health care system involves complicated procedures and many problems may arise over the health care system. If a person is in a health fund and then breaks their leg then they get what ever they need as soon as they need it. But if they are not on a health fund then they never get the treatment that they deserve.
