

ii) Protective factors available for this issue include facilities to help with a child and their parents to deal with the issue. Provide supportive environments, offer counselling and have hotlines that can be called to gather information or to gather help for the person in need. There are also numerous television commercials that have been implemented to recognise actions of people who may be suffering from depression or to help you realise if you may be suffering from depression yourself.