

Start here.

Q13.

a) Hinduism was first introduced in 1500 BCE and was founded in the Indus Valley in India. ~~and~~ Hinduism did not have a creator, but was a mix of two beliefs blended together. It is now practiced in most parts of South East Asia and 85% of people in this area follow the religion Hinduism.

b) Globalisation has impacted on Hinduism dramatically by the way the large amounts of people who follow this religion are all over the world. It is not just practiced in India anymore. Different attitudes and beliefs have also been mixed into Hinduism by different groups of people around the world.

The media has also impacted on Hinduism on a global scale by all different people around the world all can interact with one another. Globalisation has impacted on Hinduism in a positive way I think because it is well known with a set of beliefs and without globalisation Hinduism would not be practiced by the amount of people that practice it nowadays.