

Studies of Religion

Section I (continued)

Attempt Question 11

Answer the question in the space provided.

Question 11 (5 marks)

'The churches should act together in all matters except those in which deep differences of conviction compel them to act separately.'

Conference on Faith and Order, 1952

Using the above statement and your own knowledge, describe the impact of Christian ecumenical movements in Australia.

The impact of Christian ecumenical movements in Australia is that they want all churches to act together in all matters except those in which deep matters of differences convict them to act separately. The Christian Church wants all churches to act together to help with climate change such as the drought and the atmosphere. This is the impact of Christian ecumenical movements in Australia.

"The churches should act together in all matters except those in which deep differences of conviction compel them to act separately."

conference on Faith and Order 1952.