

7

9) Soon after arriving on land, he heard the sound of an animal.

It was the sound of the sacred Trojan gods, and the Trojans was quivered. For out from the rain of burning Troy, came a divine vision which presented itself with great light, the moon shone thence through the unshattered window.