

Start here.

(10)

(a) paratum

(b) "non modo in auribus vestris"
"sed in oculis omnium"(c) "cum publicis autoritatibus" "videt senatores multos"
"et amicissimis civitatibus"
"multos equites Romanos"

(d)

Now he knows this very daring and very attentful man. He understands me in such a way that he ~~prepares~~ <sup>is</sup> preparing and instructing to see the judgement, so that you will not only want with gold, but also to be seen by all, so you will set up your trick and shameful act on him. He sees many senators to be witnesses to your daring act; He sees many Roman ~~knights~~ <sup>knights</sup> ~~approaching~~ <sup>approaching</sup> citizens ~~of the praetor~~ <sup>and allies of the praetor</sup> ~~and allies~~, to whom he himself will make injustified sign

~~Pro~~ He even sees so seriously the whole legates

~~with~~ having been conducted with its public authority from the very friendly citizens.

Additional writing space on back page.