

Start here.

a) iudicium

b) auribus, oculis

c) amicissimas civitatibus publicis auctoritatibus

d) Now he thinks this man is very bold and very mad. He understands that I ~~was~~ ^{had} come to this trial with preparation and instruction, so that not only in your ears, but in the eyes of all, I would be fastened by your theft and shame. He sees the many senators witnesses with your boldness; he sees the many Roman knights crowding and shows the allies and citizens, who themselves ~~are~~ make distinguished justice. He even sees so many

~~the~~ grave ~~with~~ ⁱⁿ ~~very~~ citizenship by very kind legions with the public authority gathered.

Additional writing space on back page.