

Start here.

(a) I think that I am equal to the many dozens or thousands having been written at length by that man, not (as it may have been) written on re-used parchment. With regal scrolls, with a new booklet, with a new knob, a red strap and with parchments, having been arranged by all the lead and pumice.